

Honoring American Military Aviation Through Flight, Exhibition, and Remembrance

Help keep historic World War II warbirds flying in Indiana...

JOIN THE INDIANA WING OF THE COMMEMORATIVE AIR FORCE!

The Indiana Wing maintains a Fairchild PT-26 Cornell, a primary flight trainer, and a Taylorcraft L-2 Grasshopper, a liaison and observation aircraft, two of 145 historic combat aircraft the Commemorative Air Force owns and operates. Indiana wing members also own and fly a Vultee BT-13 Valiant, a basic trainer, and a Stinson L-5 Sentinel, a liaison, observation, and air ambulance aircraft. The Indiana Wing flies these World War II aircraft to aviation events throughout Indiana. Pilot and non-pilot members are given regular opportunities to fly or ride in the warbirds. The Indiana Wing encourages members to participate in Wing activities, which include various educational, recreational, and social events such as the Wing's annual 1940's St. Valentine's Day Gala.

Meetings of the Indiana Wing are held on the first Saturday of each month at 10 a.m. at Indianapolis Executive Airport (TYQ), and are often followed by a hanger cookout and flying. The airport is located north of Indianapolis between Zionsville and Westfield on the south side of State Road 32 about 2 miles east of US 421, and 6 miles west of US 31. History and aviation enthusiasts and their friends and family members are welcome to attend all activities of the Indiana Wing.

In addition to the Indiana Wing, the Commemorative Air Force has over 9,000 members and 70 units located in 27 states and four other countries. The origin of the CAF dates back to 1951, with the purchase of a surplus Curtiss P-40 Warhawk. A short while later, the group added a P-51 Mustang and then a pair of F8F Bearcats. At this point, the mission of the CAF became clear: save an example of every aircraft that flew during WWII ~ a mission no one else was undertaking.
